

Time for God Cookies Policy

Time for God work hard to safeguard your privacy online, and use cookies in order to provide you with a more personalised web service.

- For information about what cookies are, please see www.allaboutcookies.org.
- Time for God's website was built using Wix. Here is a link to their information about Cookies (link)

We use two types of cookies on our website:

1) per session cookies:

- temporarily remain in the cookies file of your browser until you leave the site

2) persistent cookies:

- remain in the cookies file of your browser for as long as is indicated in the lifetime of the specific cookie.
- Store information between visits to our site, so that you don't have to log-in repeatedly between visits

Time for God may also monitor which websites you have come from prior to entering our site, and which websites you move on to after leaving our website, to assess the impact of our website and to develop our programme.

If you do not wish to receive cookies you can easily modify your web browser to refuse them (look for the help function in your browser), or to notify you when you receive a new cookie. However, this may give you a limited service on our website, so we recommend that you leave them switched on.

Time for God also use third party websites such as Wix to embed videos, and you may be sent cookies from these websites. We do not control the setting of these cookies, so if you want to find out more about this please check these websites for information.

We also use third party websites such as Facebook and Google Analytics, and they may also use cookies. In addition, they may use tracking pixels, which track the effectiveness of adverts. Please note that some of these services may be based outside of the EEA, and so may not fall under the jurisdiction of UK law.